SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 1 .- Three batteries of the 6th Field Artillery will he concentrated at Douglas, Ariz, the strategic point of a district opposite a region in Mexico where Sonora troops have been concentrated, according to announcement here today. Reports from Gen. Pershing failed to indicate any increased activity in the Mexican forces beyond his lines. The gradual concentration of Carranza's troops in the north has been continued, but no friction of any consequence between them and the American troops has occurred.

It was expected that the conference between Gen. Pershing and Gen. Gavira would take place today at or near classas Grandes. Gen. Gavira, who asked for the interview, left yesterday for Casas Grandes.

Decision Will Force Restoration of Mrs. Hellmann to Position as Pedagogue.

The District Court of Appeals, in an opinion by Chief Justice Shepard, today affirmed the decision of Justice Gould of the District Supreme Court, holding rule 45 of the board of education which automatically removes a female teacher on her marriage, to be inconsistent with the organic school law The effect of the decision is to compe the board of education to restore Mrs Gladys Aline Strong Hellmann to a position as teacher in the public chools, from which she was removed in September, 1914, because of her marriage in July, 1914.

The lower court sustained both con tentions of Attorney Paul E. # ROOSEVELT TO RUN, SECRETARY ASSERTS

John R. McGrath Makes Formal Announcement of the Colonel's Candidacy.

MOOSE MEN ALTERNATES FOR OREGON'S DELEGATES

Significant Move Made for Harmony Between Hughes Sponsors and Progressives.

BY N. O. MESSENGER.

CHICAGO, June 1.-Formal nnouncement was made at II clock today of Col. Roosevelt's candidacy for the Presidential nomination by the regular republican convention.

The announcement of his candidacy ame from John R. McGrath, the colonel's private secretary, who came to Chicago to take personal charge of T. ials to speak for the colonel. Theodore Roosevelt, like Justice Hughes, has never ublican nomination. As a progressive, and the founder of that party, some people professed to believe that Col. Roosevelt would not have anything more to do with the republican party, nor accept office at its hands. But in order that all doubts may be swept aside Col. Roosevelt has authorized his private secretary, McGrath, to say that he is an avowed candidate for the republican powinglion.

ne is an avowed candidate for the republican nomination.

McGrath arrived here this morning, having left the colonel in St. Louis last evening. When seen at the Blackstone Hotel, where he has his headquarters, with a telephone line running directly to Sagamore Hill, he was asked the point blank question of whether the colonel is or is not a candidate for the republican nomination.

"Of Course He Is Candidate."

"Of course he is a candidate," replied McGrath. "I thought that every one understood that and so does the colonel, but if there is any doubt about the matter whatsoever, you may say that I am authorized to speak for him and that he will accept the republican nomination if it is tendered to him. Every one knows what his principles are, and what the is-sue will be in the campaign if he is nomi-nated."

McGrath was asked whether the reports that the progressive convention will nominate Col. Roosevelt by acclamation on the first day, thereby putting him up to the republican convention as the only man the progressives will accept, were true.

"I have not the slightest idea what the progressive convention will do, any more than Col. Roosevelt has. He will not try to boss the progressive convention, and the delegates will do what they will nominate the colonel at all, any more than I know whether the republican convention will nominate him. If such things can be fixed up in advance what would be the use of holding a convention?"

The center of the bitterest fighting has shifted somewhat to the southwest of the front between Cumieres and Dead Man hill, west of the Meuse, where the Germans have scored most of their recent gains.
